ABSTRACT

An analysis of student enrollment statistics of the 7 campuses in the Hawaii community college system for fall 1977 yielded the following summary information: regular credit students comprised 77% of the total enrollment; enrollment decreased 1% over fall 1976, the first decrease since the system began in 1965; males outnumbered females by the smallest margin (8%) in five years; average student age was 24.6, with individual campus averages ranging from 22.5 to 27.0; the modal age was 18-19; and 47% were enrolled in liberal arts programs with 44% in vocational programs. From fall 1973 to fall 1976, the number of semester units carried has decreased from 11.5 to 10.5, and the percentage of full-time students has decreased from 63% to 56%, with a proportionate rise in part-time enrollment. More students continued from the spring semester (55% compared with 53% in 1976), and fewer students (10%) transferred into the system than in 1976 (12%). Hawaii high schools graduated 3% more students in 1977 than in 1976, but the proportion of these students enrolled in community colleges decreased from 26% in 1976 to 24% in 1977. In addition to this summary data, student characteristics are presented by individual campus, and frequency distributions are given for programs and majors within programs. (RT)

SELECTED CHARACTERISTICS CLASSIFIED & UNCLASSIFIED (REGULAR) STUDENTS COMMUNITY COLLEGES FALL 1977

Enrollment data and student characteristics continue to command a great deal of interest since these indicate the types of "clientele" served by the community colleges.

The primary emphasis of this report is on regular (classified and unclassified) students in credit programs. However, registration counts of "special" students and those enrolled in Manpower Training programs and Hoomana are also cited.

Sources of Data

Except for Table I, the information cited in this report was extracted from the Student Enrollment Reports (SER) as of October 14, 1977. The basic data are derived from student applications, personal history forms, and student class registrations.

Highlights

1. Total Registrations (Table I): Regular students comprise 77% of the total registrations (26,916) in community college programs. Eighty-three percent (167 of 202) of all concurrent registrants are enrolled at Hawaii Community College. There are 18% fewer early admits enrolled this fall (225) as compared to Fall 1976 (274).

2. Regular Students (Tables II, III, IV): The enrollment of 20,773 this fall is 1% fewer than the Fall 1976 enrollment of 20,879. Although this decrease in enrollment is modest, it is the first occurrence since the conception of the community college system in 1965. Windward and Kauai community colleges were the only colleges showing substantial increases, 18% and 6%, respectively.

   The campuses with the largest student bodies have shown decreases in enrollments: Leeward (-4%), Kapiolani (-2%) and Honolulu (-1%).

   Sex: Males continue to outnumber females. However, the margin this fall, 54%, is smaller than last fall, 55%, and the smallest in five years.

   Mean Age: 24.6 years as compared to last fall's mean age of 24.7 years. The range is from 22.5 years at Hawaii Community College to 27.0 years at Windward Community College.

Age Distribution: Again, as in previous years, the modal group is the 18-19 age category. There are 102 students in the 60+ age category, 69 fewer than last fall. The plurality of these older students are at Honolulu Community College (31) and Leeward Community College (27).

Distribution by Program: As in past years, proportionately more students are in the Liberal Arts (47%) program than in the vocational (44%) programs.

Several vocational programs have been showing yearly increases since Fall 1973: nursing (177 to 233), apparel design & construction (76 to 151), auto mechanics technology (394 to 750), commercial arts (68 to 150), cosmetology (62 to 190), electronics technology (171 to 343), food services (296 to 476), and metal working technology (200 to 320).

Semester Hours Taken: Students are taking fewer semester hours on the average: from 10.8 last fall compared to 10.5 this fall. The average semester hours taken has decreased yearly since Fall 1973 when the average SH taken was 11.5. As expected, for this same period, the proportion of full-time students decreased (from 63% to 56%) and the proportion of part-time students has increased (from 37% to 44%).

The total SSH taken by regular credit student shows a decline of 3% compared to last fall. The decreases in the total SSH's are more prevalent among the colleges with decreasing enrollments.

Student Status: Proportionately more of the students this fall (55% compared to 53%) are "continuing" from the spring semester.

There are fewer transfer students enrolled this fall (10%) compared to Fall 1976 (12%). The data indicate that 1,327 students transferred from within the University of Hawaii System. Students transferring from the Manoa campus number 471 and students transferring from other UH community colleges, 709.

High School Background: Although the number of Hawaii high school graduates increased by 3% in 1977 (13,930) compared to 1976 (13,479), the proportion of these students enrolled in the community colleges decreased from 26% last fall to 24% this fall.

Summary

The enrollment in the community colleges decreased slightly compared to the previous fall semesters. This may be a reflection of a national trend considering that a 2.2% decrease for 2-year public higher education institutions was reported last fall.[1]
